CUTS LITTLE FIGURE Invitation to Inauguration

Closing Prices on Wheat Are Weak; Corn and Oats Also Down.

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Attempts today to get up a Hessian fly scare in the wheat market here fell flat. Closing prices were weak, ic to ic under last night. Corn finished idit to ic under last night. Corn finished idit to ic down and oats varying from ic off to a shade advance.

The outcome in provisions was unchanged to 75c higher.

Prospect of a turn to rain or snow in the west had much to do with counteracting the efforts of the wheat buils. In addition, a leading crop expert declared that talk of the multiplication of the Hessian fly at this time of the year, with temperatures as they have been in Nebraska, was nonsense. Accordingly, a slight advance which had been based partly on fears regarding the winter crop and partly on the strength of foreign markets was more than wiped out. Interest in war rumors waned when it was brought to light that, compared with a month ago, Chicago prices for wheat were relatively 22 cents cheaper than Liverpool and yet there had been no recent export buying here of any consequence. Total clearances today of wheat and flour at the seaboard were equal to 646,000 bushels, sgainst 657,000 a year ago.

Falling off in eastern demand pulled down corn. The deferring of labor troubles was held responsible. Oats were suisialned by purchasing on the part of elevators and by shorts consequently being forced to cover.

Shortage of hogs at western centers made a rising market for provisions. The volume of trade, nevertheless was above the average.
